Sample Independent listening task 2 – An unusual job

Examiner rubric

You're going to hear a short talk about a woman called Mary Jones, who has an unusual job. You will hear the talk twice. The first time, just listen. Then, I'll ask you to tell me in a few words what the speaker is talking about. Are you ready?

The task will play once.

Now tell me in a few words what the talk is about.

Give the candidate some blank notepaper.

Now listen to the talk again. Write down some notes about what you hear, if you want to. Then I'll ask you to tell me six pieces of information about Mary Jones and her job. Are you ready?

The task will play once.

Now tell me six pieces of information about Mary Jones and her job.

When the candidate has finished, select four follow-up questions from the list below. Choose four questions which correspond to facts not already reported by the candidate.

Audio script

Today we're going to talk about the job of driving a truck. Only 10 per cent of Britain's truck drivers are women. Maybe this isn't surprising. Transport companies want to employ more women, as they don't have enough drivers. So what is it like for a woman truck driver on the road?

Let me tell you about Mary Jones. Mary is 22 years old and she was a hairdresser. But now, she delivers food to supermarkets. She sometimes works for up to fourteen hours a day. Despite this, Mary prefers driving to hairdressing. This is because she likes travelling. For her, the main problem is that she misses her family on long trips.

To become a truck driver, you have to be over eighteen. And of course you need to have a driving licence. Now let's talk to Mary about her job...
